DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 37, 40 and 41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claims contain subject matter, which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Due to the amendment of claim 28 in the last response, dependent claims 37, 40 and 41 are directed to an undisclosed embodiment of Applicants' invention and are thus deemed to be new matter.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 28-33, 35-41 and 46-48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 28, lines 13-14, "the first transverse throughhole" lacks antecedent basis.

In claim 28, lines 15-16, "the second transverse throughhole" lacks antecedent basis.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3733

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 44 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Duncan, Jr. (US 3,805,443).

Duncan, Jr. discloses a device including: a central body 12; a first extension 10 separate from the central body; a second extension 11 separate from the central body; and a rivet 13 wherein a first portion of the rivet is integral with one of the extensions and a second portion of the rivet is integral with the other of the extensions (Figs. 2 and 6, col. 1, lines 37-68 and col. 2, lines 1-67).

It is noted that a claim containing a "recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus" if the prior art apparatus teaches all the structural limitations of the claim. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1987).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 28-33, 35-36, 38-39, 46 and 47 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Duncan, Jr. (US 3,805,443) in view of Hoult (US 1,985,032).

Duncan, Jr. discloses all elements of the claimed invention except for a rivet having a first connecting pin having a male end and a second connecting pin having a female end.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to substitute a two part rivet having a male end and a female end as, for example, taught by the Hoult reference for the rivet of the Duncan, Jr. device wherein so doing would amount to mere substitution of one functionally equivalent fastener for another within the same art and the selection of any of these fasteners would work equally well in the claimed device.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed on April 17, 2007 have been fully considered and are moot in view of the new rejections made in this office action.

Allowable Subject Matter

The indicated allowability of amended claim 44 is withdrawn in view of the new rejections made in this office action. The Examiner sincerely apologizes for any inconvenience cause to the Applicants by this action.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
